

THE PERFECT MATCH

Engines ... it's where the Toro story started over a century ago and one reason we continue to excel today. Since 1914, we've earned our reputation based on a winning legacy of dependability, durability, and intelligent design. Creating our engines from the ground up is how we ensure their peak performance. Built for longevity and raw power, Toro engines are perfectly matched to maximize performance of the product they power. When the two combine, you have a powerful ally on your side to tackle your toughest outdoor tasks.

TESTED, PROVEN PERFORMANCE

We take quality control very seriously. Before each Toro engine leaves the assembly line, it is tested under load and checked for power levels and governor response to ensure consistent peak performance. Components are held to tight tolerances to ensure consistent production. In addition, all of our engines undergo multiple testing cycles before they're approved.
